

Amy McLaughlin

Amy is currently a Classroom Support Teacher in the Richland School District. She has also served as an Instructional Specialist, a Resource Room Teacher, a fifth grade teacher, a fourth grade teacher, and a third grade teacher. In 2010, she earned her principal's credentials from Washington State University. She became a National Board Certified Teacher in the area of Middle Childhood Generalist in 2004, and she recently renewed her certification. She earned a master's degree in teaching from Whitworth College in 1996 and a bachelor's degree in Education from Eastern Washington University in 1994. She holds a Washington State Continuing Teacher Certificate with endorsements in K-12 special education, K-12 Reading, 4-12 English, and K-8 elementary education. She graduated from Woodinville High School in 1990.