

Amy Yardley

Amy Yardley has over two decades of experience in training adults. Amy is passionate about efficiency, effectiveness and delivering positive outcomes. Amy's professional career spans the spectrum of sectors to include private, public, non-profit and educational. Her unique and diverse resume allows her to draw strengths from every sector and assist organizations in reaching maximum effectiveness.

Amy holds a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science from Ball State University and has worked previously at Deloitte & Touche Consulting, The State of Alaska, Department of the Army, Oregon Health Sciences University, and Nordstrom. She has also served on numerous non-profit Boards of Directors.

Amy currently resides in Coeur d' Alene, Idaho with her family and spends the majority of her time homeschooling her son and living the example of growing beyond crisis.