

Keshia Shorts

Keshia Shorts is a Nationally Certified School Psychologist in the Richland School District. She completed her M.S. in School Psychology and her B.S. in Interdisciplinary Studies at Eastern Washington University. In addition, she received her ELL Endorsement from Heritage University. Her previous experience includes working with adults with disabilities and mentoring teens as the Richland High School head cheer coach. Currently she is a member on the Richland School District's ELL committee and has focused her most recent professional development in this area.