

Lauren Schoenwald

Lauren Schoenwald has been serving school districts and families through her role at Educational Service District (ESD) 123 for more than five years. Working as a specialist within the Early Learning and Prevention departments, Lauren has been integral in the development of the home-visitor based model of Ready! for Kindergarten. A model currently being piloted in communities served by the ESD, Lauren has worked closely with early learning partners to design and implement this home-visitor based model targeting high-risk, migrant families throughout the region. Regarded as a resourceful and innovative approach to delivering a nationally recognized program to a hard to reach population, this model has helped to propel the statewide early learning initiatives centered around family engagement and kindergarten readiness.
