

Melanie Cushing

Melanie Cushing is currently a Site Coordinator for Communities In Schools of Benton-Franklin Counties at Hanford High School in Richland Washington. She received her Bachelor of Arts in Psychology from Utah State University and her Master of Arts in Counseling with an emphasis in K-12 from University of North Dakota. She has been a paraeducator in the behavior program prior to her employment at CISBF. Melanie's role is to collaborate with teachers, administrators, and counselors to identify students and families in need. She surrounds students with a community of support and is empowering students to stay in school and achieve in life. Melanie works to impact the achievement of all students.